Community Profile
Brookville is the county seat of Franklin County Indiana, a community in a rural setting just 40 minutes from downtown Cincinnati and 90 minutes from downtown Indianapolis. It offers an impeccable quality of place with a quaint, yet bustling, Main Street and access to incredible outdoor recreation amenities. Boasting a population of approximately 2,500, Brookville swells in size on the weekends as it realizes over 1.3 million visitors annually to Brookville Lake — typically ranking it as either the 2nd or 3rd most visited state park in Indiana. Brookville Lake is a top fishing and boating destination, and the Whitewater River is one of the Midwest’s premier paddling rivers (as well as a hidden gem for brown and rainbow trout fishing). Zip Lines, publicly accessible walking trails, antique shopping, and various festivals are all a stone’s throw away from the main drag. It is the desire of the community to leverage these various assets into a partnership with a responsible, community-minded hospitality provider.
